SUPERIOR ACCESSORIES FOR LONG SYSTEM LIFE

The Aeromic Pouch Belt has been specifically designed to give you maximum comfort, performance and life from the Aeromic system. A tough neoprene construction gives the belt long lasting, washable durability with no flaps, no velcro and no studs. More importantly, the transmitter is held vertically reducing any 'tug on the plug', extending the life of all connections and the system itself.

In the competitive world of fitness, you push yourself to the limit every day. But health and safety must always come first.

With increasing demand for larger class sizes and heavy schedules, the risk of voice damage is very real.

An inferior mike system or none at all could do more than damage your performance and reputation. You could damage your throat by straining your vocal chords over long periods.

At best that can mean taking time off while your voice recovers. At worst it can mean surgery to remove throat nodules.

AEROMIC TAKES THE LOAD OFF YOUR VOICE

Aeromic is the superior headworn microphone specifically designed for the aerobics industry.

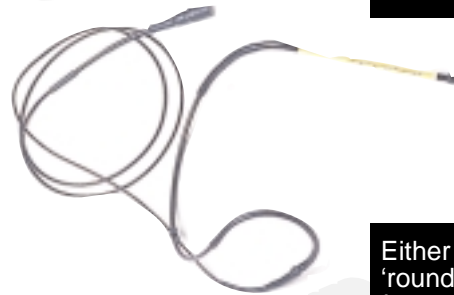

The Aeromic looks good with its unique miniature mike capsule that produces excellent sound quality, making good voice projection easier. And that can take a lot of stress and strain off your voice, especially when teaching high sweat classes like Body Pump™, stationary cycling and high impact aerobics.

ULTIMATE SWEAT-RESISTANT CONSTRUCTION

Aeromic is also the most reliable aerobics mike available with its world famous, sweat-resistant construction.

Four years of research and development including extensive prototype testing by leading fitness instructors has resulted in a mike system that is the pinnacle of sweat resistant technology. Thanks to toughened cables and plug connections, Aeromic stands up to the hardest work load you can throw at it - 7 classes a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year. The good news is it is now compatible with many different brands of transmitter like Chiayo, RFX, Shure, Nady, Samson, Telex, Audio Technica and Vega. Others like Trantec, Beyer, and AKG may be converted to be compatible by our distributors' trained technicians for a small additional charge.

The sweat resistant microphone designed just for aerobics.

Either 'over the top' or 'round the back' fittings for your comfort.

YOU'LL SAVE MORE THAN MONEY

The Aeromic system may cost a little more initially, but it's an investment in quality. When you consider the savings in breakdowns, downtime, repairs and replacements so frequent with inferior models, your savings over time are significant.

Importantly, the Aeromic system can help save the voices of aerobics instructors from stress damage, which is the most valuable saving of all.
